According to local dealers, the price quoted yesterday was the lowest that it had been for more than a year. Dealers would not offer reasons for the decline in the price of the important article.

Hawalian pineapples were new for the season and tangerines looked better on the market than they have for some time. Utah honey in the comb, at 20 cents a pound, or two pounds for 25 cents, was unusually attractive.

Fresh eggs were cheapor than they have been for several months, seiling yesterday on the retail market for 40 cents a dozen. There was also a slight decline in the price of potatoes.
